Audience of 1,500 Enthusiastic Supporters, Mostly Farmers, Hear Governor's First Speech in Campaign for U. S. Senate.

GOVERNOR IS GUEST
ROME ROTARY CLUB

Cries of "Hurrah for Hugh and Cox!" Greet Speaker—Also Addresses the American Legion Post on Subject of Patriotism.

Rome, Ga., August 11.—(Special.) Governor Hugh Dorsey made the first political speech of his senatorial campaign before fifteen hundred people, mostly farmers, at a barbecue given today at the Alford plantation, twelve miles south of Rome, and just across the Floyd line in Bartow county.

This speech followed two non-political addresses which had been made by the governor earlier in the day, one before a luncheon of the Rome Rotary club and the other at a barbecue given in the afternoon by the local chapter of the American Legion. Governor Dorsey attended both these affairs, as the chief executive of the state and no mention of politics was made by him in either of these addresses.

The governor's speech at the Alford plantation was an impromptu address, a delegation of citizens from that section were present, and he had to have them attend this occasion at which great throngs of people had gathered from all sections of Floyd and Bartow counties. The governor jumped upon a wagon, in the center of the great crowd, nine-tenths of whom were farmers, and was introduced by Mr. Clark who was the manager of the festivities as one of the greatest and constructive executives Georgia has ever known.

When a great shout went up, scores of the farmers, with an affection that was both inspiring and thrilling, it was quickly discovered that it was a Hugh Dorsey crowd from center to circumference, and a crowd including hundreds of the largest and most substantial rural people in this section of Georgia.

The governor threw himself full length into the subject without ceremony, and without platitudes and demagoguery.

"I am a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Hoke Smith," he said, "and I hold up to you my service as your governor for more than three years as my claim for that great legislative office where I can continue to serve you in the interest of a greater Georgia, good government, unimpaired democracy and 100 per cent Americanism."

"Hurrah for Hugh," yelled an enthusiastic farmer who stood, coatless and bareheaded, with one foot on the running board of his Ford car, alighting and shouting, and for a half minute the governor was again cheered to the echo, in which it seemed that every person in that great outdoor outpouring took part.

The governor then turned against me, the governor continued. "One of them, Thomas E. Watson, is not a trimmer as to his convictions; he is outspoken and unafraid, but he is an extremist, radical, fanatical and a caustic critic."

Mr. Hardwick's Atlanta organ, in its report of this meeting, in referring to the size and attitude of the crowd, said:

"After his speech, virtually the entire crowd of Jones county voters pushed forward and deluged Mr. Hardwick with pledges of support."

HALTS BANK CASE
TRIAL IN FAIRBURN

Breakdown of Mrs. Bradstreet Comes When Witnesses Testify He Had Frequently Seen Her With Green.

"MY DARLING WIFE"
LETTER IS INTRODUCED

Witnesses Tell of Rich Gifts Made to Woman in Case—Interest in Case Higher Than Ever Before.

BY PAUL WARWICK,
Staff Correspondent.

Fairburn, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—Seemingly overcome by the strenuous day in the hot, crowded courtroom, Mrs. Catherine P. Bradstreet became ill at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and the court deemed it necessary to adjourn her trial until 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. Bradstreet was being tried for complicity with William B. Green in the embezzlement of approximately $100,000 belonging to the Fairburn Banking company.

The breakdown of Mrs. Bradstreet occurred just after the testimony of M. R. Redwine, of Fairburn, who had said that he had frequently seen Mrs. Bradstreet and Green together. At the same time, also, the famous "Kitty" letter, alleged to have been written by Mrs. Bradstreet to Green and headed with the salutation, "My darling wife," was introduced as documentary evidence.

Interest in the trial of the woman principal temper higher, than that of the trial of the man, in the trial of Green last March which resulted in his conviction. The afternoon crowd, which packed the small courtroom to an overflowing capacity, and rendered proper ventilation impossible, was largely composed of women, than the morning attendance had been.

After the recess was called by Judge John B. Hutchison, of the Stone Mountain circuit, presiding, and seeing the impossibility of rendering the trial out of the courtroom, Mrs. Bradstreet retired temporarily to an ante-room, from which she went to her cell a few minutes later accompanied by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. A. Queen, and an attending physician. Mrs. Bradstreet was apparently unable to walk, as reported, and leaned heavily on the arm of her father.

Old citizens of the town say that there has never been so active an interest in any previous case tried there. Several times the sheriff and court officials were forced to warn the people against stirring about too much in the room, as they said the courtroom, which is on the second floor, was in danger of collapsing.

Sellers on Stand.

J. C. Sellers, salesman for Maler & Berkele, was the first witness to take the stand when court reopened for the afternoon session and told of a chest of silver which, he said, he sold to Green and Mrs. Bradstreet, the silver being paid for by Green. E. A. Fowler, assistant cashier of the Lowry National bank, testified as to deposits made by the defendant, especially $2,500 cash deposited on October 3, 1919.

W. Vaughn Crowley, cashier of the Citizens and Southern Bank, testified that Green opened an account for the defendant in that bank, and the witness said that Green agreed to vouch for checks of Mrs. Bradstreet on the Fairburn bank.

Transactions by Green and Mrs. Bradstreet with the J. P. Allen company were reviewed in testimony given by John Hyington, head of the credit department of that large department store. He testified that the total amount of transactions by Green and Mrs. Bradstreet was $5,200, and that he (Mr. Hyington) told Green that his account was growing too fast and that Green paid the bill.

"Pro" Forces Win First Skirmish in Battle for Ratification and Are Confident of Victory.

JOINT RESOLUTION UP FOR HEARING TONIGHT

Both Branches of Tennessee Legislature Expect to Take Final Action on Ratification Resolution Tomorrow.

Nashville, Tenn., August 11.—(Special.)—Suffrage forces were victorious today in the first skirmish of the battle for ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment by the Tennessee legislature. A joint resolution which had for its object postponement of action until August 24 in order that Tennesseans in mass meetings throughout the state on August 21 might express an opinion for or against ratification, was tabled by a vote of 50 to 37, after a debate, which at times aroused the members and the crowded galleries to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

Suffragists are determined that Tennessee shall be the thirty-sixth state to ratify, making the amendment effective and permitting women throughout the country to vote in the general elections in November and every legislative adjournment. The suffrage forces were greeted with ringing cheers, "Tennessee, a Perfect Thirty-six," is the slogan proposed by the suffragists when the decks are finally cleared for action and debate on the resolution begins in the senate and house.

Joint Hearing Tonight.

The joint ratification resolution in each house was referred today to the committees on constitutional conventions and amendments, and it was announced that a joint hearing would be conducted tomorrow night at which probably the only limitation as to argument would be the length of time granted each speaker. Tentative arrangements earlier in the day were for a hearing at one hearing at one hearing, and if possible dispose of ratification by Saturday night.

Chairman Riddick, of the house committee on constitutional conventions and amendments, to which was referred today the joint resolution providing for ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment, announced last night that the lower branch of the Tennessee legislature would vote on ratification Friday. At the same time, Speaker Todd, of the senate, stated that the upper house also would act that day.

The senate and house committees to which the resolution was referred will conduct a joint hearing on the resolution tomorrow night. Suffrage leaders who appeared at the hearing of the situation decided nothing could be gained by delaying beyond Friday, and agreed to settle the issue at that time.

While the campaign of the suffragists was moving forward rapidly, the opposition was equally busy. Representative Frank Hall, one of the authors of the resolution which would have deferred action until later in the month, said the measure was not offered as an obstruction, but was a sincere effort to sound out the sentiment of the state at large. Suffragists, however, charged that it was merely a cog in the machinery of the opposition. Undaunted by its failure, Representative Story, of White county, late today introduced a joint resolution which, if adopted, would prevent action either for or against passage or rejection. An effort to suspend the rules for immediate consideration failed and the resolution went over until tomorrow.

The story resolution declares that since the assembly in regular session last year granted the right of presidential and municipal suffrage to the women of Tennessee, ratification of the federal amendment would give them no additional privileges before 1921; that there was great doubt as to the legality of action by this legislature; that the legal talent of the state was divided on the question of legality, and that since ratification would make court action certain, "people of the nation would fear conditions arising from procedure, irreconcilable of party."

ROOSEVELT FIRES
HIS OPENING GUN
AT G. O. P. NOMINEE

Declares Harding and Old Guard Have Failed to Take to Heart Lesson Taught by Progressives.

CONFLICT RAGING
AMONG REPUBLICANS

Faction Which Beat Col. Roosevelt, Now in Control Again, Unmindful of Progress Around Them.

Chicago, August 11.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic candidate for vice president, opened his campaign here tonight.

Before a crowd of 3,000 at the auditorium theater, he urged republicans and independents to join the democrats in support of the platform adopted at the San Francisco convention, and of the ticket nominated there. He told republicans their party had been split by a quarrel among the leaders, and the faction represented by Senator Harding and Theodore Roosevelt opposed, addressing himself particularly to those who are not democrats, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"The day is past when it is either popular or useful to damn everybody and everything connected with the opposition."

"The republican leaders, however," he said, "show no signs of having taken to heart the drastic lesson taught at that time."

Seven hundred women were given the places of honor on the stage.

Fires Opening Gun.

Mr. Roosevelt's address follows in part:

"Tonight we are firing the opening gun of a battle of far-reaching importance, and once again the shouts are going to be heard around the world—for the action of the American nation this year will be watched with anxious eyes by all civilization."

"First of all, Governor Cox and I believe it is the simple duty of the candidates to give to as many citizens as possible, in as many states as possible, an opportunity to see and hear and form their own impressions of the men they are to vote for. In this connection, too, it is only frankness to say the great majority of the newspapers throughout the country are owned or controlled by men affiliated with the republican party. It is, therefore, doubly necessary for us to present our views and our aims in person."

"This land of ours is of such physical magnitude, has so many different kinds of problems in different kinds of places, that those who may be called on to exercise national powers of governing owe it to themselves to study, in so far as possible at first hand, the questions before them. If the problems are national, one must be nationally minded to meet them one must make every effort to know the United States."

Poland, Back to Wall,
Seeks to Cash Pledge
Made in American Note

New World War Is Impending, Nations Are Warned in Proclamation by the Polish Defense Council.

FRANCE TO RECOGNIZE
RULE OF GEN. WRANGEL

American Note Is Expected to Result in Proposed Conference With Soviet Agents in London.

Washington, August 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—Poland, its back to the wall in its fight against soviet Russia, will ask immediate material aid of the United States, it was announced today by Prince Ludomirski, the Polish minister. More than that, it will seek to develop precisely what America meant by the announcement in its note yesterday to the Italian government that it would employ "all available means" to maintain a free Poland.

Expressing complete satisfaction with the American note, the minister declared he was convinced that it would inspire Poland with a new spirit of hope. He added that his country was sorely in need of war materials of all kinds and that he probably would first seek credits from the United States with which to purchase them.

Simultaneous with the minister's announcement, the legation made public a proclamation issued by the Polish council of national defense at Warsaw, warning the nations that a "new world war hangs over the world" and that if Poland should be crushed by the bolshevik it would be due to "the indifference of a world which calls itself democratic."

Three Purposes of Note.

Copies of the American note to Italy, it was said today at the state department, have been delivered to the representatives of the allied and associated governments and dispatched to all the news centers of the world, promising its widest dissemination, even in Russia itself. Diplomats generally regard the document as having a three-fold purpose:

First, the extension of moral support to the Polish government and people.

Second, an appeal to the masses in Russia to throw off the bolshevik yoke and establish a constitutional government.

Third, the influence of other nations to refrain from recognition of the soviet regime.

The dispatch of the note to Italy followed a series of informal conversations that had been in progress for several weeks between officials of the state department and the Italian embassy. Early in the course of the negotiations between the two governments preliminary to the Hythe conference between Premier Lloyd-George and M. Millerand, the Italian government had made

BATTLE IS LOST
ON VETERINARIAN
AT NIGHT SESSIONBILL TO PROTECT WORKERS PASSES

Success of Compensation Act Comes as Surprise Even to Its Friends. Now Goes to Governor.

One of the features of last night's session of the house, and a development that came as a big surprise to even its friends in that body, was the passage of the workmen's compensation act, a bill that has been probably as widely discussed during the present session of the legislature as any other one bit of proposed legislation.

The bill, which was originally introduced in the senate by Senator Bowden of the fifth, provides compulsory liability insurance for workmen in certain Georgia manufacturing and service industries, and was approved by the house by a vote of 129 to 27.

It was one of the very first measures to come before the night session of the house, and the reading of the first few paragraphs of its approximately half hundred pages was the signal for a number of suggestions by which the house could avoid waste of time.

The speaker ruled, however, that the bill must follow the prescribed procedure and be read for the third time before action, and this took approximately forty minutes.

Carroll Opens Fight.

Mr. Carroll, of Wilkinson, opened the argument for the measure, and his opening remarks showed that even its staunchest supporters had little hope of its passage. Mr. Carroll stated that he knew that the house was not in a receptive mood for weighty legislation as the compensation act, but he appealed for the earnest consideration of all members.

Mr. Pace, of Sumter, offered three amendments, which would render the law inapplicable when injuries result from negligence of the employee, which would direct that insurance of single men go to the estate subject to suit of creditors; and which would make the law existing at that time applicable when employer and employee have not agreed to the provisions of the act.

Later Mr. Alfriend, of Baldwin, made a strong appeal against the adoption of these amendments, and Mr. Pace asked and was given unanimous consent to withdraw them.

Appearing for the bill on the floor were also Mr. McDonald, of Richmond, the blind member; Mr. Stranier, of Bibb, who made one of the most convincing arguments in its favor; and Mr. Eve, of Chatham.

Opposing the bill were Mr. Lawrence, of Wilkes, who made the main attack upon the measure.

Branch College Lost.

At its night session the house tabled, and thus automatically killed the bill which proposed to establish a branch of the state university at Lithia Springs, to be known as Northwest Georgia Normal and Industrial School for Girls, in consideration of lands, buildings and equipment valued at $50,000, which the town of Lithia Springs proposed to give the state.

Mr. Willoughby, of Douglas, described the tract of land offered and the building and equipment on the tract, and Mr. Lankford, of Toombs, attacked the bill on the ground that establishing branches of the university in every town or city that is willing to give $50,000 to secure the same weakens the parent institution.

ANTI-SALOONERS
MAKE NO CHOICE
FOR PRESIDENCY

Birmingham, Ala., August 11.—The subcommittee of the executive committee of the National Anti-Saloon league in session here today decided that the organization would not make a choice between Governor Cox and Senator Harding for the presidency.

The executive committee will compile and make public the complete records of the two candidates on the liquor question and ask the voters in sympathy with the aims of the league to take their choice after a study of the records. It was announced here tonight, however, that active part will be taken in all congressional fights and that all the strength which the league is capable of mustering will be thrown against those who favor giving any of the ground that has been gained by the dry forces.

Dr. P. H. Baker, national superintendent of the league, returned to his home in south Alabama tonight, and Wayne E. Wheeler, general counsel, will return to Washington tomorrow.

BATTLE IS LOST
ON VETERINARIAN
AT NIGHT SESSION

Dr. Peter Bahnsen Gains Postponement of Year by Passage of Johnson's Privilege Resolution.

BITTER FIGHT WAGED
FOR MAJORITY REPORT

Plans to Impeach State Veterinarian Announced at Meeting of Rules Committee, Defeated.

After the most spectacular parliamentary battle that has been waged in the lower house during the present session of the general assembly the investigation of the office of Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian, was disposed of by Representative Covington, of Colquitt, who asked that the rules committee report be amended and the investigation committee reports be placed upon the house calendar immediately before the first bill placed by the rules committee for consideration Wednesday night.

Johnson's Motion.

Before the vote was taken upon the Covington motion, Representative Johnson, of Fannin, submitted a substitute in the form of a privilege resolution, in which he declared that in view of the fact that the committee appointed by both houses to investigate the charges against the state veterinarian had been instructed to attach a transcript of the evidence, and in view of the fact that the transcript, which should be made a part of the committee's report had not been completed, the committee reports, with the transcript of evidence, should be reported together to the next general assembly.

This resolution was adopted unanimously, evidently satisfying all parties to the contest.

Shortly after the house convened for the evening session, and the workmen's compensation bill had been disposed of, Representative John Knight, of Berrien, arose to ask Speaker Holder to explain whether the house, in view of the decision of the subcommittee of the rules committee, would be allowed the privilege of hearing the reports on the Bahnsen case as a part of the evening session, which he claimed had been made at the expense of $7,000 to the state.

Mr. Knight's query was the signal for the beginning of a parliamentary play that lasted for nearly an hour, during which the speaker was required to deal with the question of the privilege of the committee, which he decided in favor of the house.

Mr. Knight's query was the signal for the beginning of a parliamentary play that lasted for nearly an hour, during which the speaker was required to deal with the question of the privilege of the committee, which he decided in favor of the house.

Not Placed on Calendar.

In reply to the question from Mr. Knight as to whether or not the Bahnsen reports would be placed before the house, Representative Knight, vice chairman of the rules committee, stated that the rules committee had instructed him to report that there would be no place given on the calendar for new business and that the Bahnsen matter would not be placed upon the house calendar for the last night's session.

Representative Johnson, of Bartow, at this point observed that it was his opinion that the investigation committee had been instructed to present the transcript of the evidence in the Bahnsen case as a part of the report and objected to action by the house upon the reports without the transcript of the evidence that was heard. In this he was supported by Mr. Wohlwend, of Muscogee, who said that no member of the house could vote upon the matter fairly and intelligently unless the evidence in its entirety was before them.

Speaker Holder ruled, in answer to Representative Covington's parliamentary inquiry, that the house could, by a two-thirds vote, amend the rules committee's report and place the Bahnsen case upon the house calendar for the purpose of making what disposition the members saw fit of the matter.

Reports Are Read.

The clerk was then called upon to read the majority and the minority reports of the investigation committee. After this had been

CLASH OF HOUSES
OVER MONEY BILLS
ENDS AT 4:10 A. M.

Many Appropriation Measures for State Institutions Defeated on Account of Lack of Funds.

GEORGIA TECH LOSES
$125,000 REQUEST

$475,000 Provided for Pensions, $300,000 for State Sanitarium, and $20,000 for Alto Sanitarium.

After a long drawn out and at times sensational battle over money bills for various state institutions, which lasted all Wednesday and Thursday, the general assembly adjourned sine die at 4:10 o'clock this morning.

The house agreed to the $475,000 additional pension bill, $300,000 extra maintenance for the state sanitarium, $5,000 for the South Georgia Normal college at Valdosta, $20,000 for the Alto sanitarium, and $12,500 for the school for the deaf and dumb at Cave Springs, the last after a vigorous fight had been made by the house for $15,000. The state school for mental defectives at Augusta, which was created last year, but not financially provided for, loses out again, the house tabling the $20,000 appropriation, which was cut by the senate to $20,000.

Efforts to get other measures, calling for appropriations through, however, failed, Georgia Tech losing the $125,000 asked; the Georgia training school and various branches of the university being turned down, these bills not even coming to vote in the house at the final session. A determined attempt was made by Mr. Moore, of Fulton, to secure consideration for the Georgia Tech, but proved futile.

With the action of the house in tabling the senate appropriation measures, as amended, all necessity for an extra session has vanished, since the revenues of the state, it is declared, will be sufficient to cover all amounts appropriated.

Speaker Made Present.

At about 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night the house called Mr. MacIntyre, of Thomas, to the chair for the presentation of gifts to officers of the house and for hearing the farewell address of Speaker John N. Holder.

Speaker Holder was presented with a handsome gold watch fob by Judge Covington, of Colquitt, in behalf of the membership, and in accepting the memento, the speaker made farewell remarks to the house, with which he this year severed connection, after having served it approximately nineteen years.

He told the members that, regardless of his future political fortunes, he would always hold a warm spot in his heart for each and every member and that he would be loyal to the state of Georgia and her interests as he saw them.

In addition to thanking the members for the present given him, he expressed appreciation of the recent gift presented by the house to his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Holder Mobley, on the occasion of her marriage, saying that any favor shown a child of his was more deeply appreciated than if shown him.

Other officers of the house presented gifts were Speaker Pro Tem, Herman Miller, of Dodge, who was given a handsome gold-headed cane; Clerk Bismark Moore, a loving cup; Doorkeeper J. M. Moore, a pair of

Atlanta Opera Club To Give for Charity 'The Musical Whirl'

The Atlanta Opera club, producers of the stunningly successful performance of "The Mikado," at the Auditorium last summer, is to give the public the latter part of August three evenings of music that promise to eclipse anything of the kind presented here in years.

"The Musical Whirl" it will be called, and it will include music all the way from the gems of grand and light opera to favorite ballads of the past fifty years and the latest hits from Broadway, rendered by a company of 125 people, who will include the foremost soloists and chorists in the city against a background of radiant scenery and flashing electrical effects.

The Atlanta Opera club is composed of Atlanta's leading singers and is directed by prominent Atlanta men and women noted for their patronage of the arts. Mrs. William Lawson Peel is president of the club; Cecil Poole is the musical director, and Frederick K. Dorfman is stage manager. The club's directors include many well known Atlantans.

The club was founded for the sole purpose of aiding Atlanta's charitable organizations by giving, from time to time, benefit performances of the highest rank. The first of these was "The Mikado," when thousands of people who packed the Auditorium last summer to hear the revivals of the old favorite, were charmed with its rendition by the club. The second is "The Whirl" this month. The club is considering presenting "The Masco" later in the year, to be followed by other favorite operas of other years.

"The Musical Whirl" will be something unique. The proceeds of the three performances will go to the working girls' homes of Atlanta. They are five in number, the Bu Memorial, the Martha Canfield, the Eliza Manget, the Julia Howell and the Alice Calloway Home. They are all under the same management, directed by leading Atlanta men and women, and no worthwhile cause could have been selected by the club.

It was the idea of the club to give Atlanta something different from anything ever presented here before—a grand combination of opera, minstrelsy, ballads, topical and popular music. Already, eighty-five people have been rehearsing for more than a month for the production, and the completed cast, with musicians and others, will number at least 125.

The principal singers will include the stars of "The Mikado" performance, augmented by many well-known Atlantans who will have interesting parts, such as in "The Mikado," as Forrest Adair, who will be the interlocutor in a "first part" like a minstrel show.

As a forerunner of the delights in store for music-lovers, the management today named over a list of some of the numbers on the program of "The Musical Whirl." They run the gamut of favorites from 1850 to 1920, changing from opera to ballads and back again to opera and then jazz.

Included on the program are the following: Sousa's "Bride-Elect" march; the overture from "Wilhelm Tell"; the anvil chorus from "Trovatore"; sung to the accompaniment of real anvils and an electrical display; the beloved lullaby from "Germine"; "God-bye, Girls, I'm Through," from the Old Kentucky Home; "Old Folks at Home," "Bubbles," "Sunshine of Virginia," "Carry Me Back to Old Kentucky," "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," "I Might Be Your Once-in-awhile," "Peggy," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," the "moon song" from "The Mikado"; "When That Mobile Boy Sings the Memphis Blues," "Well Me Why" and "Will You Remember" the Pilgrim's chorus from "Thanthouner," the quintet and third act chorus from "Martha"; "Gypsy Life," a beautiful solo and duet from "The Bohemian Girl," besides a wealth of end songs, jazz and the like.

All kinds of music. Any performance that gives the audience such a wealth of classical, semi-classical, popular and "all favorite" music as is sure to be worth going miles to attend, especially when the music is rendered by such capable singers as those who were heard in "The Mikado." In addition to the music, "The Musical Whirl" will be notable in other ways, notably in its settings and scenery. The first part, "A Garden of Roses," will be beautifully staged. The company has secured from Nell O'Brien, the celebrated minstrel, an entire setting for this scene. It will be augmented by an electrical display that will feature a gigantic silver "mirror ball" that will be coming in stage tricks. Such songs as "Bubbles" and "The Sunshine of Virginia" will be carried out with illustrative scenes and tableaux. The program will end with an original sketch, "Maidy's Wedding Day," a sketch with a plot and a cast that promises rare fun. Well-known Atlantans will have interesting roles in the cast.

The American Legion Anti-Watson-Hardwick campaign committee has published the following advertisement in each of the daily papers in an effort to locate the man who wrote the challenges to the legion which was published in the Sunday American on August 8, signing it A. B. Smith:

$50.00 Reward—Atlanta Post No. 1 of the American Legion will pay this amount for any information concerning an ex-soldier of the name of "A. B. Smith," who is said to have received dismembering wounds in France, and whose name was signed to a "challenge" for a joint debate in the Sunday issue of Hearst's Sunday American, and which challenge has subsequently been ignored by the alleged challenger. Address: Anti-Watson-Hardwick Committee, Room 1613 Healey Building.

HUSBANDS WERE CRUEL, SAY SUFFERING WIVES

Two divorce suits, each alleging cruel treatment, were filed in the Fulton superior court Wednesday by Mrs. Lois Estrado and Mrs. Bernice Englett through their attorney, Claude D. Rowe.

Mrs. Estrado accused Sebastian

Estrado of beating her and treating her inhumanely during a short married life of four months. She sets out that when her husband left her he told her he "was gone for keeps."

Mrs. Englett asks her freedom from Luther Englett, who she states was in China the last time she heard from him. She alleges that he told her he did not love her, and "that times are too hard for a poor man to have a wife."

WHO PAYS FOR PNEUMATIC TRUCK TIRE EXPERIMENTS

WHEN an automobile owner's tire goes back on him he more or less cheerfully charges it off as a personal loss and tries to do better next time.

It is different with the motor truck owner.

Every tire must do exactly what is expected of it or be charged against his business.

Experimenting with tires is not the job of the truck owner.

The United States Rubber Company spent two years in developing the idea of putting a heavy truck on air before it brought out the first pneumatic truck tires. Even then it was not satisfied.

Even at that time it saw that you could not take an ordinary passenger car tire, enlarge it and make it do what truck owners expect of their tires.

It went back again to first principles—to the foundation—to the bead of the tire.

The car owner who seeks United States Standards in tubes is well paid in more mileage for his tires. U. S. Red Tubes. U. S. Grey Tubes.

It created a new type of bead construction, positively anchoring the cords. It put in the right number of breaker strips, stronger side walls, a heavier tread.

The result was a pneumatic truck tire—not an enlarged passenger car tire. Created to fill a need—not padded and bolstered up to fill a market already created.

There are still some sizes of U. S. Nobby Cord Tires you cannot buy. The market is there, waiting for them.

But they will not be released until this company is satisfied that they will do what truck owners expect of them.

The United States Rubber Company has never asked truck owners to pay for its tire experiments.

WATER PLANT NEEDS

$100,000 FOR COAL

Finance Committee Will Discuss Situation at Meeting This Morning.

Steps to meet an additional expenditure of approximately $100,000 made necessary by the nearly 100 per cent increase in the price of coal to operate the two waterworks pumping stations will be discussed at a meeting of the council finance committee to be held at 11 o'clock this morning.

A possible increase in Atlanta's water rates is foreseen by experts on municipal matters at the city hall. Reluctance in recommending even a slight water rate increase was expressed Wednesday by members of the finance committee, but they declared themselves eager to keep the city from debt.

The threatened deficit for all city departments at the end of the present year is already in excess of $200,000 above anticipated revenue, and unless additional funds are provided for the additional cost of coal will take the deficit above the $300,000 mark.

Councilman A. J. Orme, chairman of the committee, has been informed by City Purchasing Agent J. Newton Landers that the price of coal used at the pumping stations is now quoted at the mines at $10. Transportation charges bring the cost to approximately $12.50 a ton, he estimated. According to W. Zode Smith, manager of the waterworks department, the city purchased coal earlier in the season for $4.50 and $5 a ton.

POLAND IS SEEKING AID OF UNITED STATES

It is known that under no circumstances would it be ready to enter into any engagement to go to war with Soviet Russia.

Having thus by its own act excluded itself from participation in the Hythe conference, the Italian government was said to have naturally turned towards America as a line of power associated with Italy in the war which had not participated in the division of Russian territory nor committed itself to hostile acts against the bolsheviks.

In Italian circles today it was declared that, regardless of the heavy pressure exerted by the Italian socialist party and the workmen in favor of the establishment of friendly relations with the soviet regime, the Italian government had not finally decided upon a line of policy beyond the determination not to be forced into war with Russia. While Italy had sent a commission to Moscow and was about to receive a soviet commission in Rome, it was explained that the purpose was simply to ascertain the exact conditions prevailing in the soviet government and that the Italian government had not committed itself to a political recognition of the Lenin administration.

All these matters had been under informal discussion between the state department and the Italian embassy, which had kept its government informed, and it finally was concluded that the time was ripe to gather up the various phases of the complex subject in the shape of a formal note definitely expressing the position of the United States.

London Conference Paves

In diplomatic circles here it is expected that the American note will be a result of the results upon the attitude of many governments which have not yet assumed final positions regarding the Polish and Russian questions.

A United States consular agent in Costa Rica, calls the attention of America's diplomats to the existence, on the western coast of the little country, of a shellfish called the "nauseous" from which the natives obtain a greenish liquor in which they dip their rude clothes. Exposed then, to the sunlight, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine, the clothes take on a beautiful and permanent purple color.

Porcelain coins to replace small paper money are now being manufactured in Germany.

One factory in Philadelphia produces 5,000,000 saws a year.

Russian questions. Some diplomats feel that even the governments which already have discussed the subject may find their future commitments affected by the position taken by the United States, and they believe the projected London conference, which was to have dealt with the soviet delegates with the possibility of political recognition of the bolsheviks has faded into improbability.

Administration officials expected the American note will elicit a response from the allied governments. This is based upon the statement in the document that the United States would "regard with satisfaction" a declaration by the allied and associated powers that the territorial integrity and true boundaries of Russia shall be respected; that such a declaration presupposed the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Russian territory, and that it should be accompanied by the announcement that no transgression by Poland, Finland or any other power of the Russian frontier line would be permitted.

While no specific mention of Japanese occupation of parts of Siberia was made, it was the general belief here that in his reference to the withdrawal of foreign troops from Russian territory Secretary Coby had chiefly in mind the Japanese forces in Siberia.

Exchanges between the United States and Japan on this subject now are in progress. The American government is understood to be particularly concerned about the intention of the Japanese representative to the upper half of the island of Sakhalin and Vladivostok and recently sent a note of protest to Tokyo. A reply to this has been prepared by the Japanese government and is expected to be dispatched soon.

France to Recognize Wrangel

The American announcement that the former Russian territory included in the newly established Baltic and Caucasian states should be regarded as a right of the Russian people until such time as they might establish a government, brought a vigorous protest from the representative here of those states, former French minister Walter M. Chandler, of New York. He declared that these states had been violently annexed by the old Russian empire and were as much entitled to independence as Finland and Rumania.

Hope of military experts here of establishment within Russia of a government that might successfully combat the bolsheviks was strengthened today by the announcement that the decision to give the Russian government, General Wrangel as the head of the south Russian government. General Wrangel has conducted a successful campaign against the red forces expected to materially strengthen his position since he drew upon the outside for material aid.

Similar Recognition of General Wrangel by the United States

is not expected, at least until the Russian situation becomes clearer. It is thought at this time. It was stated officially that this was not to be interpreted as meaning that the American government was not in sympathy with the action of France.

WARSAW SITUATION
LITTLE CHANGED.—The situation of Warsaw is little changed, judged from the scant news reaching Paris. It seems that the converging movement on the capital had made only slight progress, and that the greatest danger still lies from the north. The Danzig-Warsaw railway line is now closed for length of thirty miles, and the bolshevik cavalry continues to creep along the Prussian frontier. The reds are advancing west of the middle Bug river.

The action of the soviet in not replying to the Polish note regarding an armistice, but at the same time sending delegates to the Polish line has strengthened the conviction in military circles here that intention of making peace or is determined to put off negotiations as long as possible and throw the blame for the delay on the Polish government.

POLISH DELEGATES HAVE NOT LEFT.

Warsaw, August 11.—Polish delegates have not left for Minsk, where an armistice meeting was to have been held today, on account of the failure of the Russian soviet government to reply to the Polish note of August 5, relative to armistice and peace terms. Russian delegates, however, arrived at the Polish advanced post at the appointed time to await the Polish delegates.

Prince Sapieha, the Polish foreign minister, has sent an officer to the bolshevik lines to determine the armistice situation. It is ascertained that the soviet government is willing to conduct negotiations on the basis of the Polish note of August 5, a Polish delegation will be sent to Minsk.

FRANCE WILL RECOGNIZE WRANGEL.

Paris, August 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—The French government has decided to recognize General Baron Peter Wrangel as head of the de facto government of south Russia. In making this announcement the ministry of foreign affairs said:

"The French foreign office regards the soviet terms to Poland, which the British premier read in the house of commons last night, as only preliminary and it is convinced that the soviet government later would exact much harsher peace terms."

In announcing the recognition of the south Russian government, the ministry of foreign affairs said the soviet government's anxiety with regard to General Wrangel's successes was due to its knowledge that he was the most competent anti-bolshevik leader, who had yet appeared.

POLAND ISSUES WARNING TO WORLD.

Washington, August 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—Poland, in an official proclamation issued last night, has solemnly warned the world that if she is overthrown by the Russian bolsheviks, her allies will be due not only to "overbearing might," but to "the indifference of a world which calls itself democratic."

POLES PLAN COUNTER STROKE.

Warsaw, August 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Polish government is concentrating its forces for an extensive counter-stroke on the entire Warsaw front, as reported by today's newspapers.

The plans are, it is said, to begin the counter-stroke in a few days. Military men express the opinion that this is a propitious time to strike back in an effort to drive off the soviet forces which are endeavoring to encircle the capital.

REDS CROSSING DANZIG CORRIDOR.

Paris, August 11.—The Russians now are occupying a stretch of 24 miles of the direct railway line between Warsaw and Danzig, and a large force is pushing across the Danzig corridor to cut the remaining railroad, according to the French foreign office today.

The section of the main line held by the Russians is between Ciechanow and Malawa.

URGE ACCEPTANCE OF BRITISH TERMS.

London, August 11.—Two members of the Russian mission here last night on board a British torpedo boat destroyer on their way to Moscow to urge acceptance of the British terms with regard to Poland, says The London Times this morning.

WALKER CLUB

Leading Supporters of Gubernatorial Candidate Denounces Hardwick's War Record—Many Strong Addresses Made.

Preliminary plans for the formation of a strong Clifton Walker club in Fulton county were made Wednesday night at a rousing meeting of enthusiastic supporters of his candidacy for the gubernatorial campaign, held in the Walker campaign headquarters at the Kimball hotel.

Colonel James W. Austin, prominent Atlanta attorney, is chairman of the tentative organization. He will shortly announce a committee of one hundred citizens, four or five citizens as an executive committee, to direct the campaign in Fulton county. A mass meeting of Mr. Walker's Fulton county followers will be held every Wednesday at the Walker headquarters.

Doxer First Speaker.

The gathering was attended by many prominent Fulton county citizens. The headquarters were crowded, and standing room was at a premium. Several well-known men from various sections of the state were also present, including Mr. James Dozier, of Athens, campaign manager for Mr. Walker. Mr. Dozier was the first of a number of speakers who addressed the assembly.

Colonel Austin, who presided over the meeting, in expressing his confidence in the success of Mr. Walker, urged the importance of organization in order to place Fulton county in his column. He introduced the following order of speakers:

"Dick" Smith's Address.

"I never made a political speech in my life, but I never participated in any political campaign, but the citizens not only of Fulton county, but of the whole state, are confronted with an unusually peculiar situation, a situation that strongly appeals to me," said Mr. Smith. "I think I have the right to publicly present the candidacy of an American senator during the war. When I think of the millions of our own sons, and of the obstacles placed in the way of war legislation by Tom Hardwick I am convinced that the time has come when the patriotic men of this state should stand for Americanism and secure the right kind of man goes into the state militia."

Mark Holding, Atlanta attorney, paid a high tribute to the candidate.

"There are many persons in Fulton county who are anxious for the defeat of Hardwick," he said, "and are only waiting to be shown which is his strongest opponent. Mr. Walker's extensive knowledge of public affairs and his other excellent qualifications make him the most desirable man and he is without a doubt the strongest candidate."

Dr. DeLoe Hill was present and was asked what treatment he would recommend for Mr. Hardwick.

Hill Urges Defeat.

"I believe," he said, "I would remove every tooth in his head with out an anesthetic. I believe, though, that his defeat in this campaign would be decided by more painful to him than an operation of that kind."

Colonel E. T. Williams was another speaker.

"In every war we have ever had, lines between political parties were obliterated. Whether a man was a democrat or republican, he stood behind the government. In this recent war, the republicans supported the administration. We democratic citizens of Georgia had a man the senate who misrepresented us. Taken his votes on conscription, his building and other war measures. In other words, he didn't stand behind the administration."

It is peculiar that Martens and his associates should overlook all the eminent legal lights of this country and pick out a little coun-

said this recognition implied rendering General Wrangel all possible military assistance.

France will send a high commissioner to Sebastopol immediately, the foreign office stated.

Two reasons were given by the foreign office for recognizing General Wrangel. The first was his promise to assume all the obligations of the former Russian government. The second was his promise to give Russia a democratic government.

"France notified Premier Lloyd-George yesterday of her action to this effect, it was stated. The French government likewise is notifying its commercial attaches in London to have no dealings with Leonid Krassin and Leo Kameneff, the soviet emissaries in the British capital.

The French foreign office regards the soviet terms to Poland, which the British premier read in the house of commons last night, as only preliminary and it is convinced that the soviet government later would exact much harsher peace terms."

In announcing the recognition of the south Russian government, the ministry of foreign affairs said the soviet government's anxiety with regard to General Wrangel's successes was due to its knowledge that he was the most competent anti-bolshevik leader, who had yet appeared.

The French believe General Wrangel shows no promise of overturning the bolshevik regime than did the Poles, General Denikin or Admiral Kolchak in their operations against the soviet.

General Wrangel, the French point out, is meeting with great success in turning all the Cossack tribes against the bolsheviks.

try lawyer at Sandersville to represent them. Do you think it was because of his legal ability that they retained his services, as he admits, for a fee of $30,000? I feel it an insult to the state that Hardwick should raise up his head and ask that he be endorsed for public office.

Other speakers were Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, Newman Lester, Benjamin D. Watkins, Jesse M. Wood, H. B. Baylor, Dr. Horace Grant, C. C. Gillett, Morris Lichtenstein, Councilman W. B. Hoffman, C. M. Gleason, Dr. Frank K. Boland, J. T. Whitman and George T. Northern.

Present at Meeting.

Among others present were Frank R. Smith, Dr. J. H. Phillips, J. B. McTear, Earl H. Cone, C. T. Nunnally, A. Meyer, H. L. Bellingrath, Charles E. Cotterill, Paul F. Vose, H. T. West, J. R. Mr. Walker will speak at Colquitt, in Miller county, this morning at 11 o'clock. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon he will deliver an address to Deatur county voters at Bainbridge.

PLAN ORGANIZATION OF DIXIE MERCHANTS

Retail Dealers Will Be Addressed by Norman Johnson This Morning.

A movement for a Southern Retail Merchants' association will be presented to the members of the Atlanta Merchants' and Manufacturers' association Thursday morning at a business session of the assembly room of the chamber of commerce. The convention will open in the morning and will last through Saturday. One thousand merchants are expected to attend.

The movement will be presented by Norman Johnson, of Richmond, Va., secretary of the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods association. Mr. Johnson will make an address, with industrial conditions as his theme. James J. Ragan, president of the Atlanta association, will preside.

Plans of Downing For Big Cyclorama Win in Park Board

Plans submitted to the city park board by John F. Downing, Atlanta architect, for the proposed $10,000 Cyclorama building at Grant park, were formally accepted Wednesday afternoon.

The board also tentatively accepted the proposal of George A. Clayton, Atlanta contractor and builder, to supervise, engineer and furnish accounting services for the erection of the building for the sum of $400 per month. The board could not formally accept the bid, as Mr. Clayton is a member off the board. He is absent from the city, and will be notified of the action of the board by wire, in order that he may tender his resignation to city council at its meeting next Monday.

WILL ASK RE-ELECTION FROM DEKALB COUNTY

Beautiful Gifts Presented Officials of Upper House

In expression of appreciation of the work done by its officers during the session which has just ended, the members of the senate, during the recess at 6 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon presented a number of beautiful gifts.

President J. J. Flynt, of the 25th, presented at this meeting and after paying a tribute to the officers and his fellow senators, called upon the different members who were to make the presentations.

President Sam Olive, of the senate, was first given a handsome gold watch, Senator Steed, of the fifth, making the presentation.

An eloquent address of gratitude, was given a gold pencil with Senator Bell, of the dist. as spokesman. Secretary D. F. McClatchey was presented with a beautiful silver

DANCE HALL FIGHT FOLLOWS ATTEMPT TO ARREST WOMAN

When Miss Ethel Bernard, of 150 Richmond street, is said to have interfered with Policewomen Miss Dora Lee Vause and Miss Martha Dalrymple, who were trying to arrest Miss Bessie Robinson, of 109 Connelley street, in a dance hall on West Mitchell street Wednesday night, a lively fight ensued between Miss Vause and Bernard, and proved the occasion for a large crowd collecting about the quartet.

Although Miss Vause had her spectacles smashed and sustained a few punches about the body, she came out victorious, holding her prisoner until the arrival of the patrol wagon.

Charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct were docketed against Miss Bernard at police station, and her bond fixed at $300. Miss Robinson, charged with disorderly conduct, was held under a $100 bond.

Sen. Lodge Refuses To Debate League With Ex-Atlantan

An invitation extended to Henry Cabot Lodge, foe of the league of nations, by Thurman Hendricks McCoy, of Baltimore, former Atlantan, to debate with him the issue of the league as proposed by President Wilson, has been declined by the senator.

Mr. McCoy, who is a graduate of the Boys' High school and Mercer university, made his home for twelve years. He wrote Senator Lodge, challenging him to a debate in Baltimore, Boston and Atlanta.

"To the end that citizenship of the United States have the opportunity of considering the relative weights of the arguments presented," Senator Lodge declined the invitation.

els I shall have opportunity to talk not only to democrats, but also to those who are normally affiliated with other parties and with men and women without party affiliations—the independents."

"I do not forget that the government of the United States is intended for every citizen, and not only for those of only one party faith. If every voter were registered as a party member and voted exclusively as he was registered, there never would be any use in holding a campaign or an election. Thank heaven that this electorate has brains and knows how to use them. The day is past, except in the case of old-time, hardshell poliver pitcher, with Senator George Glenn, of the 43d, as spokesman. Senator Smith made the presentation speech in giving the messenger of the senate, Mr. Hooks, to fountain pen, and then Senator H. H. Elders acted for the senate in presenting Mrs. J. N. Jordan, the official stenographer, a silver goblet.

During the morning session a recess of five minutes was taken to honor the memory of the late H. T. H. Parker, of Moultrie, senator from the 47th, last summer. Mr. Parker was one of the most valuable members of the upper house, dying shortly after the close of the session.

A resolution memorializing Judge C. P. Hansell, assistant secretary of the last session, who died during the winter, was read and adopted.

clians or the case of a few narrowly prejudiced newspaper men when it is either popular or useful to down anybody and everything connected with the opposition. I willingly acknowledge and praise this fine citizenship which goes to make up the rank and file of the republican party. Many million voters of the republic stand as sincere and devoted to the basic principle of the republicanism which goes to make up the rank and file of the republican party. The republican party is the one of great traditions, of great patriotism, of great accomplishments.

"But for eight, yes, for twelve years, a conflict has been raging within that party—raging not so much among the privates in the ranks as among those in high command. In the first eight years of this century the republican party was in large part under true leadership, men who marched with the times, men who tried to interpret the thought of the body of the party for the better governing of the country. From 1908 to 1912 a group of selfish men sought for their own purposes to gain control of the party machinery. You know the result. It was in this very city that these men succeeded in their purpose."

"As a Man Thinketh."

"As a Man Thinketh" will be the subject of a popular lecture to be given Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the assembly room of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce by Rev. A. T. Osborn, under the auspices of the Psychological Free School of Health. Robert Bryan Harrison, director of the school, will preside. There will be a musical program.

Fitzgerald Election.

ISLAND IN RIVER HOME FOR STILL, SAY DRY AGENTS

C. O. Pryor, a Marietta county planter, and Will Morgan and Joe Boyd, two negroes, will face the federal grand jury for alleged violations of the prohibition act, following their arrest Sunday night by federal agents, on a small island in the middle of Flynt river. At a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner James E. Brown, Pryor was placed under $500 bond and the negroes were held under $300 bond each. A federal prohibition agent testified that he and other officers apprehended the prisoners while they were operating a large copper still, being used in the manufacture of pure peach brandy.

HUSBAND TAKES SHOT AT WIFE'S COMPANION

Augusta, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—J. M. Wornack was shot yesterday afternoon by H. A. Rambo, who alleges that Wornack was riding with his wife. Wornack was shot in the wrist, but was not seriously injured.

Rambo saw the couple in an automobile, and made a grab for the car. He was dragged a block and then took a shot at Wornack. He is charged with assault with intent to murder. Wornack is charged with disorderly conduct and rock-throwing.

Rambo says Wornack and another man forced his wife to get into the automobile and ride with them. Mrs. Rambo says that she did not recognize the second man.

PREDICT PLURALITY FOR HUGH DORSEY IN THOMAS COUNTY

Thomasville, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—Friday night is the time fixed upon for the regular formation of the Thomas County Dorsey club, and every day new voters are asking that their names be put on the list. It is expected there will be at least 500 or more to sign up when the final meeting takes place Friday night. The friends of the governor here are confident that he will carry Thomas county by a large majority.

HARLAND WILL VISIT LAND OF SHAMROCK

John H. Harland, known among the Bell house boys as "Jack," and one of the most popular Irishmen who ever let a shamrock adorn his lapel on St. Patrick's day, is going to visit the "ould country" for the first time in fifteen years.

Mr. Harland is one of the city's ablest young business executives, serving the firm of Foote & Davies company in the capacity of secretary and treasurer. He takes a very active interest in affairs of St. Luke's church, where he sings in the choir.

In Besbrook, Ireland, County of Armagh, lives his father and mother, and also three brothers, who served Great Britain during the war. Mr. Harland left Atlanta Wednesday afternoon. He will sail for Leige, Belgium, and from thence he will go to Brussels and Paris, and thence to Brookline. He expects to return to Atlanta in October.

Bank for Arco.

Brunswick, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—The Brunswick Bank and Trust company has announced that on September 1 it will open a branch bank at Arco, the new industrial center where the Atlantic refinery is located. Isaac Aiken has been named as cashier of the branch bank.

Portage

ALL OVERSIZE
Tires

Made in "DAISY" and
"SKIDLOCK" Treads

THE early French and English trappers and explorers travelled from the Atlantic Ocean to the Mississippi without crossing a single running stream.
To do this they used the lakes and the twelve Portages between them.

Light, smoothly gliding birch bark canoes furnished a comfortable mode of travel upon the lakes. But, on the Portages the travellers had to face an ordeal that tried and tested the mettle and muscle of the stoutest.

Over those twelve Portages have toiled such men as La Salle, with his band of white men, the first to see the Ohio, and first to explore the Mississippi;
Celeron, the courier of the French King, carrying his leaden plates to annex the new country to France; Marquette, in his journey to the Mississippi, and the zealous missionaries in their quest of new people to win for the faith.

"These places are called Portages," wrote an old Jesuit three centuries ago,
"inasmuch as one is compelled to transport on his shoulders all the baggage and even the boat in order to find some other river, or make one's way around these rapids and torrents; and it is often necessary to go for several leagues loaded down like pack-mules, climbing mountains and descending valleys, amid a thousand difficulties and a thousand fears, and among rocks or amid thickets known only to unclean animals."

THE modern tourist journeys from coast to coast on cushions of air.
The properly designed pneumatic tire gives to present day travellers the same easy-riding-comfort on land that the canoe gave our ancestors on the water. But very often the tire designer—in his zeal to produce a sturdy tire—gains strength at the expense of riding-comfort. Rough riding tires take the joy out of motoring.

PORTAGE TIRES are big comfortable tires, scientifically designed to absorb jolts and jars and to keep shocks from reaching the passengers.
At the same time PORTAGE TIRES easily withstand the terrific impacts that every tire receives in the day's journey over uneven pavements.

Perfectly balanced construction—is the reason: that is no great secret—but it is a most difficult perfection to achieve.

Harling-Stovall.

A marriage of cordial interest to a large circle of acquaintances was that of Miss Mary Harling and Mr. Paul E. Stovall, which was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride in the presence of a few close friends.

The bride was lovely in a Gobiell blue tulle suit with heavy trimmings and tulle to match, and her corsage was of Killarney roses and swansonia.

Mr. Stovall is well known in the business world, where he has several interests.

On their return from the wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Stovall will take possession of their home on Ponce de Leon avenue, where they will be at home to their friends after September 1.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. Benjamin M. Smith gave a delightful afternoon party Tuesday to celebrate the tenth birthday of her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, at her home on Penn avenue.

There was music, dancing, refreshments and games in doors and out.

The guests were Misses Eugenia Bridges, Catherine Norcross, Jennie May Roberts, Sidney Klein, Irene Sandifer, Masters Homer Christian, William Bryant, of Royston; S. R. Bridges, Jr., Remington McConnell, Marion Smith, Thornton Smith.

Elaborate Program

Announced for

Soldiers' Home Party.

This afternoon from 5 to 8 o'clock at the Soldiers' Home will be held a large al fresco party, sponsored by Atlanta Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, with Mrs. D. W. Winburn, chairman, in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Meyer Saul and her committee will sell soft drinks, ice cream cones and sandwiches. Mrs. Moreland Speer and her committee will arrange all details at the home and Mrs. J. Sid Holland, with the officers of the chapter, will be present during the evening to receive visitors. The program will be continuous and delightful. The program will begin at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Lynwood Jester, who has a large open-air class in dancing and expression and who has contributed to numbers of entertainments in the city, will give a large part of the program. Special features from the program, "In the Heart of the Woodland," given in the spring by Mrs. Jester's class, will be given. She will also present her pupils in solo dancing. Readers from her class in expression who will give readings are Jeanette Copham and Mildred Melore. Miss Mary Ben Wright will give costume readings and pantomime.

Jimmie McQuinn will do feature singing and Mrs. Legare Davis, accompanied by Miss Mary McCool, will sing the old ballads. Ruth Dabney Smith, the 10-year-old violin prodigy, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Smith, will give several violin selections. There will also be moving pictures and other features. An admission of 10 cents will be charged to the grounds and refreshments will be sold for the benefit of the new furnishings for the dining room at the home. Mr. McAllister, superintendent of the home, announces that if it should rain on Thursday the program and features will take place in the auditorium and dining room of the home.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bruce entertained at family dinner Monday evening, the occasion a beautiful one. The honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. Blanton M. Harris, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Humler, of Knoxville, Tenn. The date was the ninth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce.

Miss Stella Akin, Savannah lawyer, and president of the Georgia Federation of Business and Professional Women, will arrive in Atlanta today, and on Friday evening will address the several Atlanta clubs affiliated with the state and national federations.

Through the courtesy of the Y. W. C. A., the meeting will be held in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium. The hour is 8 o'clock.

Miss Akin has just returned from the national convention held in St. Paul, Minn., where with the rest of the Georgia delegation she took active part in the formation of a program for the coming year, which is highly important. Her address will hinge on the convention and will include suggestions for local and state work during the coming year, founded on ideas put forward at the convention, as well as needs felt at home.

Miss Cecile Willink, who went to the convention as delegate from the Atlanta Catholic Club of Business and Professional Women, representing also the interests of the other federated clubs of Atlanta, will also speak, giving her impressions of the convention and of the outstanding women in attendance.

The Atlanta clubs federated are the S. I. S. P. club, the Clover club and the Catholic club. Their presidents urge a general attendance. ## Miss Akin, State President, To Address Business Women

Miss Stella Akin, Savannah lawyer, and president of the Georgia Federation of Business and Professional Women, will arrive in Atlanta today, and on Friday evening will address the several Atlanta clubs affiliated with the state and national federations.

Through the courtesy of the Y. W. C. A., the meeting will be held in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium. The hour is 8 o'clock.

Miss Akin has just returned from the national convention held in St. Paul, Minn., where with the rest of the Georgia delegation she took active part in the formation of a program for the coming year, which is highly important. Her address will hinge on the convention and will include suggestions for local and state work during the coming year, founded on ideas put forward at the convention, as well as needs felt at home.

Miss Cecile Willink, who went to the convention as delegate from the Atlanta Catholic Club of Business and Professional Women, representing also the interests of the other federated clubs of Atlanta, will also speak, giving her impressions of the convention and of the outstanding women in attendance.

BANKERS ARE PLEASED

BY PASSAGE OF BILL TO MAKE EXCHANGE CHARGE.

Late Wednesday afternoon, the house passed the senate bill to amend the state banking law, which had been sponsored by the state superintendent of banking, Hon. T. Bennett, as well as by practically all bankers in the state. The bill, which was introduced in the senate by Senator Duncan, was passed by a vote of 18 to 12.

The main feature of the bill is the charge for all state banks to make an exchange charge, the charge not to exceed one-tenth of one percent of the total of any check, with a minimum charge of 10 cents.

The bill also aims to make clear some of the features of the banking bill passed by the 1919 legislature, which has been cumbersome in practice, and are all practically the result of recommendations made by the superintendent of banking from his actual experience with the workings of the act.

The bankers of the state were extremely interested in the exchange feature of this bill, inasmuch as it makes another success for the country bankers in their efforts to prevent the federal reserve board from enforcing universal pay clearance. The bankers of the state generally give credit for their success to date to L. R. Adams, secretary of the Bankers' Trust Company of Atlanta.

Mr. Adams has devoted his efforts to this controversy untiringly, and due to his energetic leadership, many thousands where he and their state organizations, have gone on record as opposed to pay clearance, and as the various legislatures have met, many of them have passed laws similar to the Georgia law, which has given our state institutions in their rights to charge for services rendered.

CARAWAY INCREASES HIS LEAD OVER KIRBY

Little Rock, Ark., August 11.—Representative T. H. Caraway had a lead of 21,076 votes over Senator W. P. Kirby, candidate for re-nomination in return for his support this afternoon by the vote cast in yesterday's statewide democratic primary. The figures compiled by The Arkansas State Gazette show Caraway 50,049 and Kirby 28,973.

In the contest for the nomination for governor, related to The Democratic caucus, T. C. McRae, of Prescott, leading with 13,318 votes, and Tom J. Terrell, of Little Rock, with 8,559. S. Mead Powell, of Little Rock, was third, with 7,126, and J. H. Cole, of Yellville, fourth, with 5,914.

There were nine candidates for the gubernatorial election.

HARRY DAVIS LEADS RACE IN OHIO.

Columbus, Ohio, August 11.—Former Mayor Harry Davis, of Cleveland, though he is suffering a reduction of his lead over former Congressman Ralph W. Cole, of Findlay, for the republican nomination for governor, as rural precinct reports still are leading his nearest rival by more than 18,000 votes. In the last 170 precincts reported, Cole made a gain on Davis of about seven and one-half votes to the precinct. If this ratio of gain is maintained by Cole in the remaining precincts to report, the contest may prove to be one of the closest of the primary.

Former Governor Frank B. Willis, of Delaware, has a lead of nearly 30,000 votes over Walter P. Brown, of Toledo, his nearest competitor, for the republican nomination for United States senator.

For the democratic nomination for United States senator, tabulated reports from two-thirds of the state showed W. A. Julian, of Cincinnati, leading Judge A. P. O'Neill, of Akron, by only 2,078 votes.

Mrs. A. A. Barner.

Marionetta, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. A. A. Barner, aged 55, died here at her home, at 7:15 o'clock tonight. She is survived by two brothers, J. W. Warner and C. J. Warner, and three sisters, Miss Georgia Warner, Mrs. L. A. McNeil and Mrs. J. W. Duke. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

IS YOUR BABY THE PROPER WEIGHT?

Dr. Holt, the eminent baby specialist, says that baby's weight tells very accurately how well it is thriving. He recommends the first year at least, keeping a weight chart. The average baby weighs at birth 7 to 7½ pounds; three months, 12 to 13 pounds; six months, 15 to 16 pounds; one year, 20 to 22 pounds.

If your baby isn't weighing what it should, give it immediate attention. That's the place to look for the cause of underweight is the stomach and digestive organs, because, if they do not function properly, baby's body is not properly nourished. Symptoms of poor digestion are usually sleeplessness, fussiness, loss of appetite, constipation, diarrhoea and sometimes a slight fever.

This condition may be easily corrected with a good laxative, such as "Baby Ease," a perfected preparation by a baby specialist. The castor laxatives have a tendency to irritate and are too harsh for the delicate membranes of baby's stomach. "Baby Ease" is easy-acting, non-irritating, does not produce over-action, leaves baby contented. It is a safe, harmless and efficient laxative and corrective for babies and children. If you improve after a few doses, take baby to a physician. Ask your druggist for "Baby Ease."—(adv.)

BRUNSWICK TO HONOR ADMIRAL W. S. BENSON

Brunswick, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—Admiral W. S. Benson, the latter part of this week on an inspection trip, will be entertained by the Brunswick Board of Trade. The full program has not as yet been arranged, pending announcement from the admiral just how long he will be in the city, but it is expected that most of the day will be spent in an inspection of Brunswick's harbor and shipping facilities. The admiral will be tendered a boat trip to all parts of the harbor and will be accompanied on the trip by a number of prominent local business men. He will also pay a visit to all of the terminals in the port.

In the evening, or whenever it best suits the convenience of the admiral, a dinner or luncheon will be tendered in his honor by the board of trade, to which all members of the board will be invited.

WATSON'S STATEMENT DENIED BY EX-SOLDIER

Milledgeville, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—A charge made by Thomas E. Watson in his address here today that every morning for the longest kind of time an American soldier was hanged at sunrise behind a military prison at Gileves was branded as untrue by members of the Milledgeville post-American Legion. "If the Atlanta Legion doesn't quit hanging me I'll tell the name of the Atlanta soldier who gave me the story," Watson declared.

Watson and his associates will not prevent him from delivering his address in Atlanta September 8, and assured his hearers that the control of the meeting would not be taken from his hands.

Following Watson, Don Clarke, of Savannah, spoke in behalf of Mr. Watson. Neither speaker was accorded much applause, though there was a fair sprinkling of Watson supporters in the audience.

COTTON ASSOCIATION WILL NOT MEET HERE

Montgomery, Ala., August 11.—Announcement was made at the meeting place of the board of directors of the American Cotton Association, to be held in September, has been changed from Atlanta to Montgomery. President J. S. Wannamaker, of Savannah, S. C., will decide the date. The finance and price-fixing committee, composed of fifty members, will meet in this city at the same time.

43 Legion Posts Aid Fight On Watson and Hardwick

Ex-Service Men of Arlington Declare Two Candidates Gave Help and Comfort to Enemy During the War.

Trammell Scott, chairman of the American Legion Anti-Watson-Hardwick campaign announced Wednesday that 43 Legion posts in the state had endorsed fully the stand taken by Atlanta Post No. 1 and that they had pledged full support in the fight being waged against these two candidates.

Following is one of the typical resolutions adopted which came from Arlington, Ga.:

Whereas, it has come to the attention of the American Legion, that Thomas E. Watson and Thomas W. Hardwick are candidates before the people of Georgia for public office, the one a candidate for the United States senate and the other a candidate for governor, and

While it is not the purpose of the legion to enter the field of party politics, nor to espouse the cause of any candidate for public office, nevertheless, it is the purpose of the legion to uphold true Americanism, and in order to accomplish this purpose it is vitally essential that so far as the power and influence of the legion can be exerted, it should be exerted to make sure that all men elected to public office be well-proven, loyal American citizens, most especially men who are to fill so high and important positions as United States senator and governor, and

Whereas, during the darkest hours of the late world war, when the forces of civilization were engaged in a life and death struggle with the enemy and the fearful shadow of Prussianism had already fallen athwart our fair land, menacing the very existence of freedom itself; when the eyes of a despairing and almost conquered world turned beseechingly to this land across the sea, and the call came to America to come to the rescue of civilization; when American responded to that call, girded on her armor and went forth to battle; when every loyal American citizen thought only of his country and its success, and was striving every nerve and sinew to crown his country's efforts with success—these two men who are now brazenly asking the suffrage and endorsement of the people of Georgia, by using every means within their power to embarrass and impede the progress of our country in the prosecution of the war, each proving himself to be disloyal to America and America's ideals during the war, and

Whereas, this post is named in honor and to commemorate the memory of a comrade of ours who gave his young life for his country's cause in that great conflict, his body now squandered in the blood-soaked soil of France, and whose memory is calling upon us who survived the fight to hand the treachery of such as Thomas E. Watson and Thomas W. Hardwick with No. 68, of the American Legion, that we would be false to the memory of our comrade and the heritage bequeathed to us in his death were we to stand meekly by when traitors dare to flout their precautions of disloyalty in our faces and not lift our voices in denunciation thereof, and urge upon our comrades and all true men and patriotic American citizens to oppose to the utmost these two disloyal Americans and blatant demagogues, so as to vindicate the good name of Georgia and the loyalty of her citizens.

We do therefore pronounce in no equivocal language Thomas E. Watson and Thomas W. Hardwick to be enemies of the principles of our legion, and call upon our comrades and the citizens of our community to rally again to the cause of patriotism, and vindicate the good name and honor of our state, and to do all within their power to defeat these two ignominious sons of Georgia, so overwhelmingly that the fair name of our state may remain unsullied, and the loyalty of her citizens never be questioned.

Be it resolved further, that as between all other candidates we shall and do remain as an organization absolutely neutral, leaving to each of our comrades his individual choice.

COX TODAY MAKES FIRST STUMP TALK

Address at Camp Perry, Ohio, Will Be First in National Campaign—To Try Out Marksmanship.

Columbus, Ohio, August 11.—Governor Cox came here today from Dayton and mapped out the address he will make tomorrow at Camp Perry, Ohio, the first speech of the democratic presidential candidate in the nation-wide campaign he has decided to pursue.

The part of the national guard and other citizen soldiers played in the war is to be the main theme of tomorrow's address, in presenting the Ohio governor's cup to the winner of the national rifle shooting competition at Camp Perry. The governor also plans to stimulate practice in arms by shooting a few target rounds himself.

Because of road conditions, Governor Cox today abandoned his plan of motoring from Columbus to Camp Perry, about 125 miles, and incidentally, prevented a meeting of the democratic and republican presidential standard bearers. The governor said he had planned to call on Senator Harding at Marion, which is on the automobile route to Camp Perry. Instead of the motor tour, the governor will leave here tomorrow at 11 o'clock by rail for Toledo, motoring from there to Camp Perry. He will speak about 5 o'clock and, after dinner at camp, will return to Toledo and take a midnight train due here early Friday morning.

Governor Cox late today received word by long-distance telephone from Governor Roberts, of Tennessee, that it appeared probable that the Tennessee legislature would ratify the federal woman suffrage amendment. Governor Roberts said a favorable vote in both branches of the legislature next Friday was in prospect, in view of the test of strength today between suffrage and opposition forces.

Advices were sent Governor Cox today that his two addresses scheduled next Saturday at Wheeling, W. Va., would be divided between the West Virginia democratic convention, at 2 p. m., and a public meeting on the river front in the evening. The governor, after spending Friday here, plans to motor to Wheeling early Saturday and, following his two addresses, spend the night at Wheeling, returning here by motor Sunday.

Not a Sailor Lost By the British Navy In Taking Mannix

Archbishop Says His Capture Is Greatest Success of British Armada Since Battle of Jutland.

BY PERCY SARR, United News Staff Correspondent. London, August 11.—"I mean to press my right to visit Ireland, by every means in my power," said Archbishop Mannix, the Australian Catholic prelate, in an interview granted here Tuesday night, his first lengthy statement since he was arrested and taken off the steamship Baltic Monday and landed from a British destroyer at Penzance, England.

"Whatever statements I made in the United States," he continued, "regarding the relations between Great Britain and Ireland, were well deserved. I stand by every syllable. The British government considers that I should not come into contact with any Irish center in Europe, but I do not consider it my duty to follow government's plans."

"Since the battle of Jutland the British navy had scored a success comparable to chasing the Baltic out of Irish waters and capturing me without the loss of a single sailor. I have received no consideration from the government and did not expect any."

Seeking Legal Advice. The archbishop is at the moment at the Nazareth academy in Hammersmith, a district of London. He said he was seeking legal advice as to the government's rights in excluding an Australian citizen from Ireland. Personally, he explained, he does not consider himself bound by the government's orders, "any more than by the ship of Persia." However, he said he would not defy authority until advised by his counsel to do so.

"The whole matter is a political one," said Archbishop Mannix, "and it is due to the resentment of the Irish people against the British government of my opposition to his conscription campaign during the war. It has no connection with my views on Ireland."

The United News correspondent found little the matter with the archbishop's health. He had been attacked at sea by the heat and the motion of the ship, but was getting his land legs again and was able to smile while looking through his glasses.

"I am an Irishman," he declared belligerently, "and I claim the right to go to my native land after an absence of seven years."

The prelate was hugely amused by the Scotland Yard detectives, a half dozen of whom were obviously watching the house. Charles Diamond, the Irish publisher, released from prison on Monday after serving six months for a seditious editorial, was among the archbishop's callers.

Newspapers Taunt Government. The majority of the British newspapers and magazines of opinion are taunting the government for its action and are recommending that Mannix be allowed to go to Ireland.

Fearing that Sinn Feiners might induce the archbishop to lead him to Ireland by some sensational expedition, Scotland Yard was detailed by the British government Tuesday to watch the Australian prelate closely. The authorities obviously were apprehensive of being outwitted by some ruse of the Sinn Feiners, but they thought such an attempt was being deferred until Archbishop Mannix had been fully approved. The authorities tried to get the Sinn Feiners' whereabouts. A deputation of Irishmen here to meet him said Tuesday that he would require a complete rest. Local Sinn Feiners have not given up their plans to "welcome" the archbishop, but are waiting his recuperation and approval of their program.

Japan Behind Terror Reign In Russia, Says Maj. Hazzard

BY CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, JR., Special Correspondent of the United News.

(Copyright by United News.) Tacoma, Wash., August 11.—That Japan is behind the reign of terror in Russia and Siberia is the message Major G. H. Hazzard brings back with him from the scene of the collapse of the all-Russian regime. Furthermore, he states that Japan is financing and in many cases supporting in every possible manner the Russian bolsheviks of today.

Major Hazzard has just returned from 33 months in the interior of Siberia. Although his statement may be regarded as improbable by some—and he admits himself that such an attitude might be taken because of stories contrary to the facts, appearing recently in the American press—still, it is interesting to know what a man so well informed has to say.

As an American engineer attached to the Russian army Major Hazzard has had much time to study their conditions and his descriptions of situations as well as his excellent knowledge of locations form an attractive and for the most part trustworthy listener.

Backed by Japs. "The Japs are unquestionably, to my mind, the entire bolsheviks party in Russia and Siberia today," Major Hazzard declared in his interview with me. "They are directly responsible for all the troubles in Manchuria. They are keeping those states at present in an uproar and turmoil. You will remember the great massacre of Nuhnu last April. It was all brought on by Japanese methods. The Japanese are using the Russian army until the poor people could not bear it any longer, and rose up in great wrath against them. I was in Irkutsk at that time. On April 4 and 5 I saw hundreds of dead lying all about the streets. It was as much as a man's life was worth to go about at that time. The Japanese were ambushed everywhere."

Governor Cox late today received word by long-distance telephone from Governor Roberts, of Tennessee, that it appeared probable that the Tennessee legislature would ratify the federal woman suffrage amendment. Governor Roberts said a favorable vote in both branches of the legislature next Friday was in prospect, in view of the test of strength today between suffrage and opposition forces.

Choate Files Answer In Hodgson Will Suit

Sets Forth Estate Was Practically Disbursed Before He Became Executor.

An answer to the suit filed on July 15, in federal court by Mrs. Lill Hodgson Nichols against H. E. Choate, of Atlanta, and J. M. Hodgson, of Athens, executors of the estate of A. H. Hodgson, her father, in which it was alleged that although her father's will was probated in October, 1913, the estate had as yet not been fully administered, and that although the estate was worth more than $200,000, she had received less than one-third of the amount due, has been filed in federal court by Mr. Choate.

In his answer Mr. Choate alleges that he was not one of the original executors of the will. In the will, he states, A. H. Hodgson named his brother, J. M. Hodgson, together with John R. White, as executors, with the provision that should either die pending administration, Mr. Choate should fill the vacancy.

John R. White, it is set forth, died in December, 1918, and Mr. Choate qualified in January, 1919. At that time, it is set forth, the estate had been liquidated and disbursed, except for a comparatively small amount, now said to be in the hands of J. M. Hodgson and being held by him pending the conclusion of several matters of litigation.

ATLANTA MAN, NOW 72, MARRIES IN CHICAGO

News was received Tuesday by officials of the Alden Marble company, of the Green Marble company, of the marriage in Chicago of William H. Utz, president and secretary of the former organization and Miss Eleanor Jesu, of Chicago. Mr. Utz boarded a train to Chicago early part of the week and secret of his intentions locked in his breast. He was 72 years old and had been married before. His wife is 42 years of age.

Mr. Utz was formerly an attorney and had been married before. His wife is 42 years of age. He is reported to be very wealthy and is a native of Chicago. He lives at the Piedmont hotel, and is a Shriner and a member of other secret orders. The couple are expected back to Atlanta today.

Camden Candidates.

Waycross, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—J. T. Vocello and S. C. Townsend have announced as candidates for state representative from Camden, subject to the primary to be held in September. Both men are well known throughout the county and one of the bitterest campaigns in the history of the county is resulting.

Two captured German guns have been placed in the grounds of Buckingham palace by order of King George.

News was received Tuesday by officials of the Alden Marble company, of the Green Marble company, of the marriage in Chicago of William H. Utz, president and secretary of the former organization and Miss Eleanor Jesu, of Chicago. Mr. Utz boarded a train to Chicago early part of the week and secret of his intentions locked in his breast. He was 72 years old and had been married before. His wife is 42 years of age.

Mr. Utz was formerly an attorney and had been married before. His wife is 42 years of age. He is reported to be very wealthy and is a native of Chicago. He lives at the Piedmont hotel, and is a Shriner and a member of other secret orders. The couple are expected back to Atlanta today.

Camden Candidates.

Waycross, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—J. T. Vocello and S. C. Townsend have announced as candidates for state representative from Camden, subject to the primary to be held in September. Both men are well known throughout the county and one of the bitterest campaigns in the history of the county is resulting.

POLICE ARE URGED TO CONTINUE WAR ON ALL LOITERERS

Another big gun in the war on killers and loiterers upon the streets and highways of the city, in the poolrooms and other public places, was fired by Chairman J. W. Maddox, of the board of police commissioners, at their regular monthly meeting, held Tuesday night at police station.

"There is no doubt in my mind but that the opportunities for lawlessness in every form will be substantially diminished, if not eliminated, by a determined and relentless war upon all suspicious characters loitering about the town," said Chairman Maddox.

Other features of the meeting were the election of five supernumeraries to the police force, the dropping from the department of Policewoman Miss Cora E. Buckmaster, for failure to report for duty, and the acceptance of the resignation of Patrolman J. A. Grenner.

Those elected as supernumeraries were John Albert Wright, Alonzo Jackson Terry, General Miles Bell, John Hamilton Crankshaw and Walter Adolphus Malone.

Taken in Connection With Recent Murder Of Fortune Teller

Columbus, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—Charles Creamer, alias Frank Jones, was taken into custody yesterday in connection with the murder of Mrs. Mattie Wells, here, July 15. The aged woman, a fortune teller, was beaten over the head with a rock wrapped in a handkerchief. Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the crime, as Mrs. Wells was known to have carried a large sum of money on her person and the money and her stock had been pulled down, evidently having been searched for money. Creamer, a resident of Phoenix City, emphatically denies all knowledge of the crime, and declares that on the day the crime was committed he worked at a local cotton mill and his wife through the noon hour, visited a swimming pool in Girard during the afternoon and on the night of the crime he was at his preliminary hearing has not been set.

A Texan recently wagered a hundred dollars that he would smoke six cigars, twelve cigarettes and six pipes of tobacco in half an hour, minutes, and he won his bet with three minutes to spare.

SAYS IT KEPT HIM ON THE PAY ROLL

"Nothing kept me on the pay roll of the Illinois Motor Co. but Tanlac," for I had also made arrangements to give up my position when I began taking it," said G. C. James, who lives at 1419 Franklin Ave., Springfield, Ill.

"I had suffered from rheumatism and backache for years, and got in such bad shape I could hardly get about. The rheumatism was especially bad in my legs and sometimes my left leg would swell to twice its normal size. I had been in this condition for a long time and I had not enjoyed a meal in years. I suffered from indigestion and I had dizzy spells. I became so weak I often gave out completely while at work."

"One day one of the men I work with suggested that I try Tanlac and I haven't a trace of rheumatism now and I eat everything set before me without any bad after effects. The dizzy spells are gone and my kidneys never bother me any more. Every night I sleep like a log and I weigh thirty-eight pounds more than I did when I began taking Tanlac. I feel twenty years younger and am in perfect health."

Tanlac is sold in Atlanta exclusively by Jacobs Pharmacy Co.—(adv.)

COOL RECEPTION GIVEN HARDWICK AT MARIETTA

Called to Taw by Ex-Serviceman When He Charges Clark Howell Employs Scott.

Marietta, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—Thomas W. Hardwick's address delivered here today in the interest of his candidacy for governor was given rather a cool reception. This was especially true of his attacks on President Wilson, of which he made several. Not one of these sallies received a word of encouragement or a sound of applause. His speech was practically the same as has been delivered by him at other places throughout the state, and his audience, while failing to show any marked enthusiasm, at least accorded the speaker an attentive hearing.

During the course of his address, Mr. Hardwick charged that Trammel Scott, of Atlanta post, No. 1, was employed in the office of Clark Howell, Basil Stockbridge, of the local post, American Legion, arose and denied the truth of the statement so emphatically that Mr. Hardwick admitted himself to be in error, stating that he had been misled.

Previous to Mr. Hardwick's address, Basil Stockbridge, commander of the local post of the American Legion, addressed an audience of about 250, denouncing both Hardwick and Thomas E. Watson for their attacks on the local post, which adopted, unanimously, resolutions denouncing Hardwick and Watson and raised a sum of money to be used to carry on a campaign of publicity against the political campaign of the two, at a meeting held last night.

Prices—Up or Down?

High prices for livestock increase the producer's income. Low prices decrease it and even result in losses. Similarly, high prices for meat increase consumer's expenses.

But Swift & Company as a middleman does not benefit by high or low prices. Our income depends not on a high level of prices or a low level, but rather on the margin between the livestock price and the meat and by-products price.

The company's only concern, in whether prices should be high or low, is that they should be high enough to satisfy producers and low enough to please consumers; but over the movement of these prices Swift & Company has no control.

Swift & Company is compelled by competition to pay high enough prices for livestock to secure an adequate supply. We must sell meat at a price low enough to make it move. We endeavor also, between the two prices, to secure a margin large enough to pay all expenses and yield a fair profit.

Our profit for 1919 averaged less than two cents on each dollar of sales, or 6% per cent on money invested.

W FROM KID MEN

BY JOE WILLIAMS.
Toledo, Ohio, August 11.—The amateur threat to give the professionals a battle for this year's golfing championship. No fewer than eight of the unpaid stars broke through the qualifying coron yesterday, two of them, Chick Evans and Bobby Jones, outshooting the "big four," composed of Vardon, Ray, Hagen and Barnes. Vardon, of St. Louis; Chick Evans, of Toledo, and Howard Lee, of Detroit, are three hitherto unknowns who are fighting for immortal glory.

Many well-known pros failed to qualify. Perhaps the biggest surprise was occasioned by William Creavey's fall from grace. The Kansas City youngster had been spinning around Inverness in Dazling figures, two of his practice rounds totaling 69 and 71. Tuesday Creavey had some trouble with his shots, but managed to stay under nevertheless. Yesterday he came to grief on the twelfth hole, slicing his drive into the tall timber, taking eight strokes to get out, and then picking up. Creavey had the privilege of lifting with a penalty of one stroke, but elected to play.

Bobby Jones continues to thrill the gallery with his wonderful recoveries out of the rough. The young southern champion has a fondness for playing a wooden club in the rough and he does it better than any other amateur in America. He made a shot going to the fourth green Tuesday that caused the great Vardon to gasp in amazement, and yesterday going to the twelfth after a hooked tee shot, he took a wooden club and sliced the ball out of high grass for a distance of 230 yards, landing on the green hole high.

One of the pathetic developments of the qualifying round totals was the absence of Alex Smith's name from the championship field. Alex was open champion in 1916, and again in 1910 and was the last foreign-born golfer to win the American title. Alex came here determined to make another bid for the crown, but found the going a bit too rapid. Stewart Maiden's failure to get in the big show isn't causing him the slightest unrest. "I'll have more pleasure following Bobby Jones," stated the St. Louisian to whom Jones was playing a possum today. Jock Hutchinson actually had a chance to get a 62 yesterday. It seems hard to believe that a Chicagoan could have had any faults at all in the course of compiling a 62 for the 6,600-yard course, but it is a fact that his putting was anything but perfect. Certainly it did not measure up to the standard he set on the preceding afternoon.

There were at least seven smallish putts that Jack Burke would have liked to have been putting with the deadly accuracy that he has shown in the past. As it was he had fourteen par holes and three birdies. To E. H. Hagen, of St. Louis, goes the credit of making the only eagle that has been scored so far on the eight-hole course. He did it because he played the hole badly. His tee shot was high and weak and instead of being pitched to the green he was forced to use his mid iron. The ball sailed straight from the green, landed on the edge and rolled directly into the cup for a 2. The hole is 4. The hole is 232 yards long. Hagen, the Canadian open champion, is paired with Mike Brady, who finished all square with Vardon yesterday at Braeburn. G. H. Nichols draws Jack Burke, of Minneapolis. Chick Evans and Macdonald are teamed together. Wilfred Reid plays with Bobby Jones. Jim Barnes draws Harry Vardon, of St. Louis, and de Luxe. Hagen and Hutchinson are teamed together. Vardon and Macdonald, the westerner, and Ray and Pat Doyle, the New Jersey crack.

Jack Burke, who was runner-up to Hutchinson in the qualifying test, is no mere flash in the pan. In several years ago Burke was in a fine position to finish at least second in the western open at Weston, but was disqualified for playing a ball out of bounds. He recently won the Minnesota open with a record-breaking round of 28, circling the course four times in 100 minutes. He is a home-bred, and is a native of the Philadelphia golf district. With the fact that Vardon finished in the tie for nineteenth position, and Ray was two strokes behind him has not caused their supporters to concede the championship to the American competitors. Vardon and Ray are veteran campaigners, they appreciated what it would take to get them in the championship and played accordingly. It is generally felt their subsequent rounds will be much closer to par.

JACKS READY FOR LAWLER'S FAST WORK
The manager of Freddie Jacks, featherweight champion of Europe, states that his protégé is confident for his coming battle with Jack Lawler at the Auditorium, August 17. Jacks is the legitimate champ of Europe and has taken part in a total of two hundred and sixty-eight fights during his career. He traveled the four thousand miles across the ocean to meet Johnny Kilbane, but has not been able to arrange the match as yet, though several leading promoters are making the bid.

Jack Lawler is well known locally and holds decisions over several topnotchers in the ring. He has twice met Johnny Dundee, Benny Valgar and Willie Jackson. Jacks barely walloped Benny Valgar in the local ring and several months ago floored Willie Jackson in a Jersey ring, and fought the ranking Middleweight at a standstill the last three rounds after using the first six in figuring Willie's style without encountering his famous wallop in the right hand. Jack carries the light and uses both mitts to advantage, having made a wallop since his last appearance in the local ring. With all signs working correctly, Jack should lift the title from the European feather from the top.

Atlanta and Dallas Cracks Meet at East Lake Friday

The Atlanta team on the right was able to pile up only two points in the Birmingham meet last Saturday, but are confident of raising their score here Friday in the home waters. Reading, left to right, for the Atlanta swimmers follow: Carpenter, Hartney, Holloman, Lewis, Blount, Hatcher, Jones, Frasier, and Bell. The Dallas experts, reading from left to right, are: Lee Jarvis, Alphonse Ragland, Jerry Witt, "Shoo" Crow, Coach Veith, Dick Spenser, Everett Long, and Nathan Stone.

Bobby's Good Game Continues

And He Wins His Way Into Championship Play at Toledo

BY JOE WILLIAMS.
Toledo, Ohio, August 11.—Jones continued play Wednesday with Harry Vardon of England, as his partner, and the Atlanta youth had the pleasure of bringing in a total of 151 for the 36 holes qualifying round, while Vardon was 152. Jones, of St. Paul, finishing second, with 75-71-148, and Gene Sargent, of Fort Wayne, third, with 74-72-147.

Frank Adams, of Winnipeg, who finished fourth, with 148, led the foreign invaders, as Harry Vardon, of England, required 75-74-153, and Edward Ray 80-75-155, while Nicholson of Thompson, of Hamilton, Ontario, with 153, failed to qualify. T. D. Armour, a Scotchman, amateur, with 75 today, had 157.

Aside from the four leaders, only three others got under 150. Leo Diegel, who led the scoring yesterday with 71, tying with Louis Teller, of Boston; Lowrie Axtion, of Chicago, and William Melhorn, of Tulsa, at 149.

Chick Evans, of Chicago, former champion, led the amateurs with 150, scoring 74 today.

James Barnes, of St. Louis, cut five strokes off his Tuesday score, and today he played a 63, giving him a total of 150. He was paired with Harry Hagen, of Richmond, yesterday, who scored 72 of 149.

The worst reversal was shown by Rudolph Knepper, amateur, of Sioux City, Iowa, who took 44-60-104 today, whereas he led the amateurs yesterday with 72. His total of 156 was only one worse than that of Walter Hagen, titleholder, who scored 77 today.

The gallery today again followed Vardon and Jones, although a goodly number of the crowd, who followed the second round, continued to put with an uncertain touch, but found himself during the closing stages of the play. On fourteen and sixteen he needed but one putt. But if Bobby was bad, Vardon was worse. He needed eight strokes on his card, and most of them were produced through inaccuracy on the green.

For the second day in succession, Bobby and Vardon drew the gallery, and this, despite the fact that Vardon is a home-bred, and is a native of the Philadelphia golf district. With the fact that Vardon finished in the tie for nineteenth position, and Ray was two strokes behind him has not caused their supporters to concede the championship to the American competitors. Vardon and Ray are veteran campaigners, they appreciated what it would take to get them in the championship and played accordingly. It is generally felt their subsequent rounds will be much closer to par.

ed entry to the contest, 157 being a new low figure.

No prominent tournament player was eliminated, however, and most of the amateur contenders remained in competition by comfortable margins.

Some comparatively new names crept into the coveted list. Hutchinson's 69, with yesterday's 72, allowed his total of 141 to lead the field by several strokes.

Jack Burke, of St. Paul, finishing second, with 75-71-148, and Gene Sargent, of Fort Wayne, third, with 74-72-147.

Frank Adams, of Winnipeg, who finished fourth, with 148, led the foreign invaders, as Harry Vardon, of England, required 75-74-153, and Edward Ray 80-75-155, while Nicholson of Thompson, of Hamilton, Ontario, with 153, failed to qualify.

A diversified bill for the two-day southern aquatic tournament to be held at East Lake Friday and Saturday, is offered, and five teams are already entered, with an array of water talent in competition for the numerous events.

The Dallas team has been in Atlanta all week, staying at the hotel at East Lake, and other squads are expected today and tomorrow.

TWO AND THREE "PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER" WITH "BUGS" DAER

REALIZING THAT the sand vamps don't pay any more attention to the law than a germ does to a health proclamation, the Long Beach constables charge that the surf flappers can wear anything they want, provided they wear it.

CONY ISLAND'S CHIEF badge polisher insists on the surf demoielles wearing rubber boots, a fireman's hat and a burlap sack like the parlor furniture in the house-fly season.

THE MAN deserves to be near-sighted.

UNDER THE NEW surfside regulations, the Cony bulls have grabbed orders to confiscate every beacher whose swimming trunks are still in the indestructible luggage while she is in swimming.

THE LAW is correct in one detail. A set of water wings and a cry for help do not constitute a mermaid's wardrobe in the strict sense of the twelve-pound dictionary.

IT AIN'T DOING right by our little Nell's brother for a gal to scamper along the beach carrying a handbag when she is dressed like she should be carrying a piece of soap.

PERSONAL LIBERTY doesn't mean that all the person should be at liberty.

THE ONE-PIECE SUITS are out and the sand vamps will not be elected to a third term on the beach party ticket.

UNDER THE new regs, the gals will pack certified bathing frocks, stamped by the Bureau of Short Weights and Measures, passed by the board of censors and guaranteed not to contain more than one-half of one-per-cent second looks.

WHEN WOODY MADE the world safe for democracy it happened to be high tide. That strip of land between low tide and America is the place where the outlaw one-piece frocks were blooming in defiance of all Mother Grundy hypocrisy and Puritanical dummehism.

THE LARK TRILLS but one piece. The rainbow is a one-piece fabric. The Koh-i-noor is a one-piece jewel. Personal liberty is a one-piece idea with a few subtracted fractions.

BUT THE ONE-SHEET bathing suit has been vetoed by the beach presidents. After this, the gals will step out looking like the washline on Monday morning.

VOLS ARE HERE FOR 3 GAMES

The Nashville Vols are due to stop off in Atlanta today for three games with the Crackers at Ponce de Leon park. The Vols have just completed a long road trip and have lost several more games than they have won.

Following the three days' stay of the Vols the Crackers will lead over to Little Rock, where Kid Elberfeld promises to entertain the club with personal affronts, flat fists and the like in fact, the Crackers will be in a position to take the Vols at their strongest point, and at a time when the least slip would have brought destruction. Markie pitched the cool, steady game he always performs, and his initial start was a real one. Anderson was finished in a blaze of glory.

His Faced 'Em All. Markie has faced them all now, and he has met nothing that new, cause him any anxiety. He was materially aided in his victory by Sammy Hager and Dick Kaufman, who turned in beautiful performances, aided with the willow. Sammy, especially, has been thorn in the side of the tempestuous Anderson, and with the willow. Brother Elberfeld's verbal attack of yesterday contained a bit of malice, though this reaction is not to be expected. Sammy, Hager and Dick provided the combination that pried open

Crackers

W FROM KID MEN

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.
J. Pluvius was very considerate yesterday of the precarious position the Crackers are occupying just now. The standing of clubs holding back his aqua barrage into the local hirings had pushed them to a one-run lead on "Rube" Robinson, the relentless dink to the Crackers. Some innings after that, it seemed as if the Crackers were about to be put across a couple of counters. Friend J. P. aimed a few of his batteries at Ponce de Leon, and the local hirings had pushed them to a one-run lead on "Rube" Robinson. The first contest died almost immediately, the locals picking up a pelt that read 2 to 1; the second game was called off after one inning of play, and the crowd filed out to supper, which is about the only thing in Atlanta that wasn't rained on before the generalization of watery affairs withdrew his forces.

Four-Ring Circus. It was another of these four-ring circuses, with Kid Elberfeld holding forth alone in several of the rings. The Kid lost his temper, per schedule, and his tactics made nearly everybody who wanted to do the same thing. At the beginning of the second game, the "Tabasco Kid" hinted that he didn't want to start the contest, and his wrath was directed to Sammy Mayer. The Kid, out of his belief, has never finished anything that he started, and Harry Harper jumped to his defense when Sammy shot across the "return" remarks that must not have been pleasant. In a flash, a knot of players, fans and policemen collected around the participants and the game was delayed for several minutes before the doors were cleared.

"Rube" Robinson, as peaceful as he is efficient, pitched the first four innings in several of the rings. The Kid lost his temper, per schedule, and his tactics made nearly everybody who wanted to do the same thing. Cliff Markie won his abbreviated victory because he silenced what others have tried in vain. We speak of his "return" remarks that must not have been pleasant. In a flash, a knot of players, fans and policemen collected around the participants and the game was delayed for several minutes before the doors were cleared.
